

Painter Maureen O'Hara Ure has taught in the Department of Art and Art History at the University of Utah for many years, now at the rank of Professor Lecturer. A primary collaborator during most of that time has been poet Katharine Coles, Department of English. In 2022, Phillips Gallery hosted her solo show, Elsewhere, a series of paintings on panel derived from the pages of the sketchbooks she kept while traveling throughout Spain. The second phase of the Spain project, another series of paintings, has been resolved for her next solo show at the gallery opening March, 2024. Some images from this series are being adapted to form pages in her fourth artist's book, the latest publication to appear under her imprint, The Hand in Glove Press.