

J. Cory Jensen

coryjensen@utah.gov
(801) 245-7242

Education

Master of Science: Historic Preservation/Architectural Studies
University of Utah Graduate School of Architecture, Salt Lake City, Utah.
December 1994

Bachelor of Science: Business/Finance
Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.
August 1989

Experience

Sept 1998
-Present

Senior Preservation Program Specialist, Utah Division of State History
(Utah State Historic Preservation Office) Architectural Historian: Review and prepare National Register nominations and present nominations to the Utah Board of State History for review. Review FHWA/UDOT projects for Section 106/404 compliance. Perform architectural surveys, historic building research and documentation, maintain and update computer database, prepare articles about historic buildings for publications.

Sept. 2009
-Present

Adjunct Assistant Professor, University of Utah School of Architecture
Field Methods in Historic Architecture: fieldwork course covers field-based methods for research and documentation of historical buildings and analyzing buildings through. Also discuss the stylistic, and typological history of the architectural development of Utah, beginning from the first settlers of the region up to the mid-20th Century.

Publications and Papers

Thomas Carter and Julie Osborne, editors. A Way of Seeing: Discovering the Art of Building in Spring City, Utah. Publication of the Western Regional Architecture Program, No. 2, Salt Lake City, UT: Graduate School of Architecture, 1994.

Thomas Carter and Roger Roper, editors. Of Work and Romance: Discovering Utah Barns. Publication of the Western Regional Architecture Program, No. 9, Salt Lake City, UT: Graduate School of Architecture, 1999.

Cory Jensen & Philip F. Notarainni. "Italian American Utah Historic Sites: The Camillo Manina House." in piazza, Vol 11, No. 1. Italian American Civic League, Vice Consolato d'Italia SLC, Spring 1999.

Tania Georgiou Tulley & J. Cory Jensen. "Yesterday's Model Homes: Houses of the Future from the Past." Utah Preservation, Vol. 3. Fyve Star/Utah State Historical Society, 2001.

Cory Jensen. "Post-War Typology and Stylistic Designations for Residential Architecture." The Alliance Review. National Alliance of Preservation Commissions, Jan/Feb 2004.

Cory Jensen. "Angel Doors and Polygamy Pits: Utah's Architectural Folklore." Utah Preservation, Vol. 9. Fyve Star/Utah State Historical Society, 2005.

Quarterly articles on Utah's architectural history prepared for Currents (Utah Historical Society newsletter), and the Utah Heritage Foundation Newsletter, 1998-2003.

Publications and Papers
(cont.)

“The Architecture of Polygamy? A Case Study of the Houses of Robert Gardner.” Paper presented at the Utah Historical Society's Annual Conference, 2002.

“Multiple Wives, Multiple Dwellings: Housing the Polygamous Families of Robert Gardner.” Paper presented at the Vernacular Architecture Forum Conference, Savannah, GA, 2007.